A workshop on Freedom of Expression in your intimate life with yourself or/and other/s.

In a playful and joyful way, an invitation to explore the meaning of freedom of expression and how to engage in it in your sexuality using conscious kink practices (tantra, bdsm, tao). The work is based on somatic practices, meaning exploring through the body. Do you feel free to express yourself in your sexuality the way you wish and desire? What does it even mean? Do you feel you are missing something? Ideas, experiences, new practices, guidance? In this workshop we are going to address that.

Enrich your sexuality through conscious kink practices (tantra, bdsm, tao) and discover more joy, awareness and pleasure

Exploring a variety of touches using your hands and objects such as ropes, receiving and giving, impact play, bodily and emotional processing of aroused sensations are practiced in this event.

Working creatively with body, movements, and sounds for the purpose of discovering the many ways to play, to let the bodies meet with care, respect and curiosity, how to self care and resource oneself in order to have more fulfilling intimate encounters.

Workshop program

The workshop begins with sharing, movement and various sensory proposals to get in touch with yourself, your body, your sensations and the people present. The aim is to build confidence and connection, to create a secure framework in which to explore freely.

A time is devoted to feeling one's desires, limits and needs and how to communicate them to the other. The notion of consent is essential and is explored in an active and embodied way. It will be used as a guide to establish the rules of play.

The workshop then continues with several areas of ritualised games and embodied exercises that aim to explore physical and psychological freedoms and restrictions manifested in our sexuality.

The proposed exploration invites different forms of play. Listening to your impulses, your instincts, you can participate or just watch and feel free to be who you are in the experience.

Nudity is possible, respecting your wishes and limits. The workshop can also be done without nudity. This workshop is open to all genders and sexual identities.

The place

Three days of convivial and community retreat experience located at an altitude of 1425m, one hour walk from the Givrine, the Grütli chalet is a haven of peace on the edge of the forest, bordered by a pasture. It is only accessible by foot. All the premises benefit from economic lighting, powered by five batteries which are charged by a set of solar panels. The chalet is heated with wood and is supplied with water only from runoff.

Accommodation conditions

Rooms are shared by 4 or 6 people in 6 or 8 beds dormitories. There's no wifi and almost no network. There is no hot running water. Showers can either be taken with cold water or we can fill your thermos with hot water to wash you the old-fashioned way. All these conditions contribute to an experience of intimate immersion with oneself, others and nature.
